Personal Education Plans

Personal Education Plans

A Personal Education Plan (PEP) is a statutory active document for a looked-after child. It forms the education part of the child's Care Plan.

The PEP sets out the child's:

identified needs

school history

targets for educational progress, attainment and achievement, and the support in place to secure these targets views about their own education and aspirations for the future (discussed in partnership with social workers, parents and carers)

Each looked-after child should feel that the PEP is relevant to their needs and other aspects of their lives. It is important to listen to and involve the child/young person in a positive, supportive way during the PEP process.

- More PEPs focussing on impact of emotional and mental health needs
- Detailed action plans and target setting
- Better evidence of child's voice and active involvement in their own learning
- Analysis of PEPs resulting in targeted DT training (e.g. health briefings, attachment aware schools programme)
- All PEPs selected (randomly) during ILACs rated good

Snapshot from 'pupil voice' section of PEP

- Children are good at identifying their own strengths
- They have diverse and very broad areas of enjoyment from school (academic, creative, social)
- Favourite story of Year R children is 'The Gruffalo!'
- Children are very active outside school, with clubs, activities, sports and hobbies
- Strong value placed on friendships and family across all age groups
- Children and young people are aspirational for their futures

A message received in April from one of our care leavers

Dear all

Just wanted to let you know I won the nationwide competition for undergraduate of the year for engineering and construction. I've managed to bag myself a trophy, a £5k paid internship over the summers and an iPad! I got to eat caviar with celebrities Sir Trevor McDonald and Rachel Riley!

Thank you all so far helping me get here. I know my transition hasn't been without friction but I just wanted to let you know I'm so thankful and humbled for the amazing care system in the UK that has given me a platform to get here.

Kind regards,

Luke Collinson
