

Hampshire County Council Health and Adult Social Care Select Committee: Arrangements for Assessing Substantial Change in NHS provision

Purpose and Summary

- 1) The purpose of this document is to agree the arrangements for assessing significant developments or substantial variations in NHS services across the Hampshire area, and for those that may impact on the Hampshire population.
- 2) It describes the actions and approach expected of relevant NHS bodies or relevant health service providers and the Hampshire Health and Adult Social Care Select (Overview and Scrutiny) Committee (HASC) when proposals that may constitute substantial service change are being developed, and outlines the principles that will underpin the discharge of each parties' role and responsibilities.
- 3) The document is the fifth refresh of the 'Framework for Assessing Substantial Service Change' originally developed with advice from the Independent Reconfiguration Panel (IRP)¹ and updates the guidance relating to the key issues to be addressed by relevant NHS bodies or relevant health service providers when service reconfiguration is being considered. Emphasis is placed on the importance of constructive working relationships and clarity about roles by all parties based on mutual respect and recognition that there is a shared benefit to our respective communities from doing so.
- 4) This framework was substantially amended in 2013 following the publication of 'The Local Authority (Public Health, Health and Wellbeing Boards and Health Scrutiny) Regulations 2013'². This latest refresh relates to the 'hospital bed closure' test which was introduced in April 2017 by NHS England³.
- 5) The legal duties placed on relevant NHS bodies or relevant health service providers and the role of health scrutiny are included to provide a context to the dialogue that needs to be taking place between relevant NHS bodies or relevant health service providers and the HASC to establish if a proposal is substantial in nature. In this document, the term 'NHS' and 'NHS bodies' refer to:
 - NHS England
 - Integrated Care Boards
 - NHS Trusts and NHS Foundation Trusts
- 6) It is intended that these arrangements will support:
 - Improved communications across all parties.

- Better co-ordination of engagement and consultation with service users carers and the public.
 - Greater confidence in the planning of service change to secure improved outcomes for health services provided to communities across Hampshire
- 7) Section 242 of the NHS Act places a statutory duty on the NHS to engage and involve the public and service users in:
- Planning the provision of services
 - The development and consideration of proposals to change the provision of those services
 - Decisions affecting the operation of services.
- 8) This duty applies to changes that affect the way in which a service is delivered as well as the way in which people access the service.
- 9) Section 244 of the NHS Act 2006 places a statutory duty on relevant NHS bodies or relevant health service providers to consult Local Authorities on any proposals for significant development or substantial variation in health services. NHS organisations will note that this duty is quite distinctive from the routine engagement and discussion that takes place with Local Authorities as partners and key stakeholders.
- 10) Significant development and substantial variation are not defined in the legislation but guidance published by the Department of Health and Centre for Public Scrutiny on health scrutiny make it clear that the body responsible for the proposal should initiate early dialogue with health scrutineers to determine:
1. If the health scrutiny committee consider that the change constitutes a significant development or substantial variation in service
 2. The timing and content of the consultation process.
- 11) Where it is agreed that a set of proposals amount to a substantial change in service, the NHS body or relevant health service provider must draw together and publish timescales which indicate the proposed date by which it is intended that a decision will be made. These timescales must also include the date by which the local authority will provide comments on the proposal, which will include whether the NHS Body has:
- Engaged and involved stakeholders in relation to changes; and,
 - Evidenced that the changes proposed are in the interest of the population served.
- It is therefore expected that the NHS body or relevant health service provider works closely with health scrutineers to ensure that timetables are reflective of the likely timescales required to provide evidence of the above considerations, which in turn will enable health scrutiny committees to come to a view on the proposals.

- 12) The development of the framework has taken into account the additional key tests for service reconfiguration set out in the Government Mandate to NHS England. Where it is agreed that the proposal does constitute a substantial change the response of a health scrutiny committee to the subsequent consultation process will be shaped by the following considerations:
- Has the development of the proposal been informed by appropriate engagement and involvement of local people and those using the service? (This should take account of the relevant equality and data protection legislation and be clear about the impact of the proposal on any vulnerable groups.)
 - The extent to which commissioners have informed and support the change. (This has been somewhat superseded as the expectation from NHS England is that commissioners should lead all service changes.)
 - The strength of clinical evidence underpinning the proposal and the support of senior clinicians whose services will be affected by the change.
 - How the proposed service change affects choice for patients, particularly with regard to quality and service improvement.
 - Whether one of the three considerations in relation to bed closures have been met (NHS England must approve this before a Health Scrutiny Committee can take a decision on this element):
 - Alternative sufficient provision, such as increased GP or community services, is being put in place alongside or ahead of bed closures, and that the workforce will be there to deliver it.
 - Specific new treatments or therapies will reduce specific categories of admissions.
 - Where bed use has been less efficient than the national average, that NHS bodies have a credible plan to improve performance without affecting patient care.
- 13) NHS organisations and relevant health service providers will also wish to invite feedback and comment from the relevant Local Healthwatch organisation. Local Healthwatch has specific powers, including the ability to refer areas of concern to health scrutineers and Healthwatch England, and also specific responsibilities, including advocacy, complaints, and signposting to information. Health scrutiny committees hold good relationships with patient and public representatives and expect evidence of their contribution to any proposals for varying health services from the NHS.
- 14) The framework attached at Appendix One identifies a range of issues that may inform both the discussion about the nature of the change and the response of health scrutiny committees to the consultation process. The intention is that this provides a simple prompt for assessing proposals, explaining the reasons for the change and understanding the impact this will have on those using, or likely to use, the service in question. It aims to inform any report or briefing you may be asked to present to HASC, in order to answer the likely questions from the Committee on the nature and impact of any proposed change.

- 15) The framework is not a 'blueprint' that all proposals for changing services from the NHS / relevant health service provider are expected to comply with. The diversity of the health economy across Hampshire and the complexity of service provision need to be recognised, and each proposal will therefore be considered in the context of the change it will deliver. The framework can only act as a guide: it is not a substitute for an on-going dialogue between the parties concerned. It is designed for use independently by organisations in the early stages of developing a proposal, or to provide a basis for discussion with health scrutineers regarding the scope and timing of any formal consultation required.
- 16) Although it remains good practice to follow Cabinet Office guidance in relation to the content and conduct of formal consultation, health scrutiny committees are able to exercise some discretion in the discharge of this duty. Early discussions are essential if this flexibility is to be used to benefit local people.
- 17) Any request to reduce the length of formal consultation with the HASC will need to be underpinned by robust evidence that the NHS body or relevant health service provider responsible for the proposal has engaged, or intends to engage local people in accordance with Section 242 responsibilities. The 2017 statutory guidance⁴ on 'Patient and public participation in commissioning health and care' states that 'Involvement should not typically be a standalone exercise such as a formal consultation. It will generally be part of an ongoing dialogue or take place in stages.' Such engagement requires the involvement of service users and other key stakeholders in developing and shaping any proposals for changing services. Good practice guidance summarises the duty to involve patients and the public as being:
 1. Not just when a major change is proposed, but in the on-going planning of services
 2. Not just when considering a proposal, but in the development of that proposal, and
 3. In decisions that may affect the operation of services.
- 18) All proposals shared with health scrutiny committees by the NHS body or relevant health service provider – regardless of whether or not they are considered substantial in nature - should therefore be able to demonstrate an appropriate consideration of Section 242 responsibilities.
- 19) The HASC will come to its own view about the nature of change proposed by an NHS body or relevant health service provider. Where a proposal is judged to be substantial and affects service users across local authority boundaries the health scrutiny committees affected are required to make arrangements to work together to consider the matter.

- 20) Although each issue will need to be considered on its merits the following information will help shape the views of the HASC regarding the proposal:
1. The case of need and evidence base underpinning the change taking account of the health needs of local people and clinical best practice.
 2. The extent to which service users, the public and other key stakeholders, including clinical commissioners, have contributed to developing the proposal. Regard must be given to the involvement of 'hard to reach groups' where this is appropriate, including the need for any impact assessments for vulnerable groups.
 3. The improvements to be achieved for service users and the additional choice this represents. This will include issues relating to service quality, accessibility and equity.
 4. The impact of the proposal on the wider community and other services. This may include issues such as economic impact, transport issues and regeneration as well as other service providers affected.
 5. The sustainability of the service(s) affected by proposals, and how this impacts on the wider NHS body or relevant health service provider. This includes any impact that may be caused by bed closures.
- 21) This information will help the HASC to come to a view about whether the proposal is substantial, and if so, whether the proposal is in the interest of the service users affected.
- 22) The absence of this information is likely to result in the proposal being referred back to the responsible NHS Body or provider of NHS services for further action.
- 23) If an NHS body or relevant health service provider consider there is a risk to the safety or welfare of patients or staff then temporary urgent action may be taken without consultation or engagement. In these circumstances the HASC should be advised immediately and the reasons for this action provided. Any temporary variation to services agreed with the HASC, whether urgent or otherwise, should state when the service(s) affected will reopen.
- 24) If the HASC are not satisfied with the conduct or content of the consultation process, the reasons for not undertaking a consultation (this includes temporary urgent action) or that the proposal is in the interests of the health service in its area then the option exists for the matter to be referred to the Secretary of State. Referrals are not made lightly and should set out:
- Valid and robust evidence to support the health scrutiny committee's position. This will include evidence that sustainability has been considered as part of the service change.

- Confirmation of the steps taken to secure local resolution of the matter, which may include informal discussions at NHS Commissioning Board Local Area Team level.

Guiding Principles

- 27) The HASC will need to be able to respond to requests from the NHS or relevant health service providers to discuss proposals that may be significant developments or substantial variations in services. Generally in coming to a view the key consideration will be the scale of the impact of the change on those actually using the service(s) in question.
- 28) Early discussions with the HASC regarding potential for significant service change will assist with timetabling by the NHS and avoid delays in considering a proposal. Specific information about the steps, whether already taken or planned, in response to the legislation and the five tests (outlined in paragraph 12), will support discussions about additional information or action required. NHS organisations should also give thought to the NHS' assurance process, and seek advice as to the level of assurance required from NHS England, who have a lead responsibility in this area.
- 29) Some service reconfiguration will be controversial and it will be important that HASC members are able to put aside personal or political considerations in order to ensure that the scrutiny process is credible and influential. When scrutinising a matter the approach adopted by the HASC will be:
 1. Challenging but not confrontational
 2. Politically neutral in the conduct of scrutiny and take account of the total population affected by the proposal
 3. Based on evidence and not opinion or anecdote
 4. Focused on the improvements to be achieved in delivering services to the population affected
 5. Consistent and proportionate to the issue to be addressed
- 30) It is acknowledged that the scale of demand on services currently being experienced in the NHS and social care coupled with significant financial challenges across the public sector is unprecedented. Consultation with local people and the HASC may not result in agreement on the way forward and on occasion difficult decisions will need to be made by NHS bodies. In these circumstances it is expected that the responsible NHS body or relevant health service providers will apply a 'test of reasonableness' which balances the strength of evidence and stakeholder support and demonstrates the action taken to address any outstanding issues or concerns raised by stakeholders.
- 31) If the HASC is not satisfied that the implementation of the proposal is in the interests of the health service in its area the option to refer this matter to the Secretary of State remains.

- 32) All parties will agree how information is to be shared and communicated to the public as part of the conduct of the scrutiny exercise.

Appendix One – Framework for Assessing Change

Key questions to be addressed

Each of the points outlined above have been developed below to provide a checklist of questions that may need to be considered. This is not meant to be exhaustive and may not be relevant to all proposals for changing services

The assessment process suggested requires that the NHS or relevant health service providers responsible for taking the proposal forward co-ordinates consultation and involvement activities with key stakeholders such as service users and carers, Local Healthwatch, NHS organisations, elected representatives, District and Borough Councils, voluntary and community sector groups and other service providers affected by the proposal. The relevant health scrutiny committee(s) also need to be alerted at the formative stages of development of the proposal. The questions posed by the framework will assist in determining if a proposal is likely to be substantial, identify any additional action to be taken to support the case of need and agree the consultation process.
